KIRIMAYA

Championship Course

Designed by

Jack Nicklaus

When I first saw the site at Country Club of Khao Yai, I was excited by the opportunity the property presented to my design team and me. The splendor of the surroundings and the natural contours of the land gave us the ideal ingredients to create a showcase of beautiful and challenging golf holes.

Now that the golf course at Khao Yai is completed, I must say that it is one of my favorite designs in Asia and, I believe, one of the best golf courses in Thailand. Native grasses outline the perimeter of the golf course, complementing the lush Bermuda fairways and setting the stage for wildlife and golf to coexist in natural harmony. Tranquility prevails as you walk 18 holes the Country Club of Khao Yai is an unforgettable experience... and one not to be missed.

Truly outstanding golf experiences do not just happen---they are created with great care and meticulous attention to detail. It is not enough to simply design and build a great golf course; the course must be supported by impeccable maintenance, well-orchestrated management and sound marketing I hope the management and marketing teams assembled at The Country Club of Khao Yai will dedicate themselves to making this a truly world-class facility. If they do, I believe it is destined to become one of the most acclaimed golf courses in Thailand.

Playing the Course: Blue Tees

This Jack Nicklaus design will challenge golfers to the right level; not too long or difficult but no pushover either. One of its main charms, apart from the scenery, is that it gives players the feeling that they have the place all to themselves as none of the holes lie adjacent to each other. There are plenty of hazards to focus the mind, although, as with most Nicklaus designs, it is harsh but fair; playing a truly bad shot results in punishment, but play well and the reward is sure to follow.

The 3rd, 487 yards par 5 stroke index 1, can be tricky with decisions to make, depending on how well the tee shot goes. The drive is deceptive; foliage on either side makes the landing area look narrower than it is. But, negotiate this bit, and then it's decision time. The choices are: smack it on for two, or lay up on the right or left of the water running all along the left side before crossing over to the right. Going right, avoiding the water, sounds sensible, but your view of the pin may be blocked by reeds. Have a good look at the left option even though it is slightly more difficult.

The 16th, 348 yards par 4, is the signature hole here and, although short, it requires some club selection considerations before taking the plunge. It is a slight dog-leg right with water and bunkers about 200 to 220 yards off the tee on the right, which makes a very narrow landing area. So, a club to get off the tee about 190 yards is best. This avoids trouble but means a longer shot over a lake that surrounds half the green, which also has a large bunker on the left. Nothing other than a precise mid-iron will do to make sure of par.

The 18th, 411 yards par 4, stroke index 2, is a strong finishing hole. With water in front of the tee box and all the way along the left, it deserves some respect. A nasty little bunker sits right in the middle of the fairway about 200 yards from the tee, which makes a good drive a premium. A 4 or 5 iron is left into a green very well protected by a bunker and the water.
